

TO ENTERTAIN

Bill Coffman, popular entertainer of the "Sirocco," will be featured at this month's Organ Party at the Bettie Thomas Studio Saturday night at 7. The public is invited.

CLEAN CAMPUS

In close cooperation with the school faculty, staff, and administration, the newly-formed Letterman's Club at South High School has undertaken the project of a clean campus campaign. Launched at an all-Student Body rally a few weeks ago, the project has been publicized by an array of clean campus posters, slogans, and displays.

Esposito at Marineland

Currently entertaining nightly at the Marineland Restaurant in Palos Verdes is the Nick Esposito Quartet, which this week opened a six-week engagement in the "Porpoise Room." The instrumental-vocal aggregation was signed for their first appearance in the South Bay area by owner-host George M. Foster. Prior to their current engagement at Marineland Restaurant, the recording artists performed at the smartest hotels and finest supper clubs.

Walterian Capped in Nurse Rite

Suzanne de Nevers, of 23652 Park St., Walteria, was among the 38 student nurses who received their caps Monday night at the Hollywood Presbyterian School of Nursing signifying their acceptance for a two-and-a-half year clinic study period. The traditional capping exercise of a six-month probationary training period, took place in the hospital's auditorium at 1322 N. Vermont Ave.,

Annex

(Continued from Page 1) occurred when Councilman Robert Jahn protested statements made at an airport commission meeting about his charges that the rental fee of an airport tent had been quadrupled without permission of the council. Jahn reaffirmed that he had been "reliably informed" about the rental hike, a contention which was challenged by Dick Floyd, member of the airport commission.

SQUARE DANCE CLASS

A square dance class for beginners will begin this evening at Harbor Hills Administration Bldg., 26607 S. Western Ave., Lomita, from 8 to 11 p.m. Registration in the 20 week class will remain open for three weeks. Dick Riggs is instructor.

Koger

(Continued from Page 1) and members of his committee for "the tremendous accomplishments" made in the past year. He cited the Business-Industry-Education Day and the annual barbecue welcoming new teachers to Torrance as outstanding examples. Major Gen. E. S. Ligon Jr., recruited as the Air Force's No. 1 recruiting officer, gave the principal address. Approximately 500 persons attended the banquet and were served steak dinners prior to the presentations and address.

MANAGER NAMED
William D. Hanger has been named manager of the Harbor district agency of Prudential Insurance Co., it was announced yesterday by Carl White, executive director of agencies. Hanger joined prudential here in 1946 as an agent for the South Bay district office and was advanced to staff manager three years later. In 1957 he was selected for his consultant post.

BLOUNT GOT INTO the dispute by calling down all commissioners who were carrying on word battles with the council through the minutes of their meetings. "I'm sick and tired of seeing individual councilmen castigated in commission minutes," he said. "Maybe the commissioners need to be reminded who they work for," he added.

Students Honor Turkish Visitor

Students at Wood and Sepulveda Schools Monday welcomed a visitor from Turkey, Nejat Sonmez, director of information. By student council resolution, Monday was proclaimed "Konya Day" at Wood School, where student council president Larry Helphand presented him with a scroll. Sonmez was honored at an assembly program in which students told about America and Sonmez showed slides of his native country. He toured Wood classrooms, viewing the "little red schoolhouse" plan in action, and at noon was honored at a luncheon given by the school and PTA. At Sepulveda School, Sonmez also was honored at a school assembly and exchanged information with the students.
